For the Defendant:	BRUCE HOTCHKISS, Esquire
--------------------	--------------------------

1 BY MR. HOTCHKISS:

2 Q. Doctor, when I gave you all this material
3 do you recall we had a conversation about the number of 4 beers that I believed my client had to drink?

5 A. I believe that was the conversation, yes,
6 Counsel. That was a number of months ago.

7 Q. Do you recall me telling you that it was
8 two and a half beers?

9 A. I remember you saying that, yes.

10 Q. And do you recall me referring -- I'll
11 withdraw that. I've got nothing else.

12 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You may step
13 down.

14 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Ladies and gentlemen,
16 we're going to take our lunch break today. I'm going to 17 buy you lunch today. The bailiff will take you to lunch.

18 We've got a restaurant picked out and reservations
19 for you. You've not been sworn and impaneled yet, so my 20 admonitions are still in effect and certainly during the 21 course of your deliberations the Court will provide lunch
22 for you.

23 During the lunch time you would not be allowed to 24 deliberate unless you were in the jury room having lunch,
25 a working lunch if you will.

26 But at this point for those of you who wish to go,
27 I'm not going to force you to go to lunch, but we have 28 made arrangements for you, all of you, including the
